II. Media Traditions

Architecture, Urban Design, Spatial Design ................................................................. 2
Comics, Animation, and Visual Storytelling ................................................................. 2
(Cyber) Narrative ........................................................................................................... 3
Science Fiction ............................................................................................................... 3
Fiction and Plays Relevant to Digital Design ............................................................... 3
Films Relevant to Digital Design ................................................................................ 4
Film Art ......................................................................................................................... 4
Graphic Design / Information Visualization ............................................................... 6
History of Writing, Print and Reading ......................................................................... 6
Modern and Post-Modern Art ...................................................................................... 7
Performance Art / Performance Studies ..................................................................... 8
Photography ................................................................................................................ 8
Play and Games ........................................................................................................... 8
Radio and Television ................................................................................................. 9
Other Possible Areas of Media Traditions and Forms .................................................. 10
Architecture, Urban Design, Spatial Design

Comics, Animation, and Visual Storytelling

Disney, Walt. Snow White. Disney Studios.

Fleischer Brothers. Superman. DC Comics.

Lee, Stan. Works

{(Cyber) Narrative}

Science Fiction

Sterling, Bruce. various works.

Fiction and Plays Relevant to Digital Design

Faulkner, William. Snopes Trilogy.

Faulkner, William. The Reivers.

Films Relevant to Digital Design

Toy Story II. Ash Brannon, John Lasseter, Andrew Stanton. Buena Vista, 1999

Film Art

Kolker, Robert. Film Forum and Culture.

Graphic Design / Information Visualization

History of Writing, Print and Reading

Harris, Roy. The Origin of Writing. LaSalle, Il: Open Court, 1986.

Homer. The Iliad and The Odyssey.

Modern and Post-Modern Art

Performance Art / Performance Studies

Forte, Jeanie. Women's Performance Art: Feminism and Postmodernism.

Photography

Crimp, Douglas. The Photographic Activity of Postmodernism.

Play and Games

Radio and Television

Other Possible Areas of Media Traditions and Forms

Students may propose other fields or subfields that support their own research focus, for example: Elizabethan Drama, Renaissance Painting, the Victorian Novel, American Literature, Lyric Poetry, Opera, the Ballad, Women's Autobiography, Slave Narratives, etc.